They came for me when I came home - I barely reached the door, I was alone.

German hard/prog rock band Radio Anywhere releases their strongest single today. With its dystopian mood, solid beat and dark vibes, it caught the attention of the band's first performances.

Recorded between August and September 2022 at 79Sound Studios in Cologne, Germany, the song is finally released on all major music platforms via distribution service Distrokid.

The song was already an integral part of the Radio Anywhere gigs and was extremely well received by the fans.
